Minor Requirements

To complete a minor in Near Eastern studies, students must take five NES courses (minimum 15 credits) that meet the following conditions:

1. At least three courses should be at the 3000 level or above.
2. Two language courses at the 2000 or 3000 level may count towards the minor.
3. Three (or more) courses will explore the history, archaeology, literature, or religions of the Near East. Students may choose to focus on one of these disciplines or on the ancient, late antique, medieval, or modern periods across the disciplines.

Please Note: No more than one independent study, one non-NES cross-listed course, and one departmentally approved course taken overseas or at another university may be applied toward the minor.

Please list three courses at the 3000 level or above. Include the semester and year you plan to take, or have taken the courses, as well as the course number and title.

Please list other NES courses taken. Include the semester and year you plan to take, or have taken the courses, as well as the course number and title.
